Criteria and weighting	Level	Comments:
Knowledge and understanding of the topic/ issues under consideration (25%)	Very Good	Very good knowledge regarding the topic with a clear understanding regarding the benefits of AI in the context of your project. There is a good connection made between pedagogy and using AI to enable students. There is an overview of some key concepts as well exemplars of previous studies to give the presentation context.
Use of relevant sources (10%)	Very Good	Very good use of relevant research which is appropriately applied to the context. There is an over view of how the research you have collated to date impacts the study and supports the prospect of further study into the project context.
Criticality (25%)	Very Good	There is an emerging sense of criticality, there is plenty of discussion and comparison in the project, I would just now try and get some more debate working through the project context. Consider this point moving forward.
Structure and Presentation (10%)	Outstanding	It is clear that a good deal of time has been applied to the visualisation of the power point. Care and attention have been applied to the concept of how the presentation looks and how it is animated through the slides to support the presentation. An outstanding outcome here.
Presentation and Communication Skills (30%)	Very Good	Very good communication and presentation skills. There are a few minor hesitations in your discussion, but for the most part the presentation is fluid. One particular comment is to use formal language all the way through and so 'kids' should be referred to as children
